COLLEGE COMMENCEMENTS.—The commencement exercises of the various colleges in the State will take place this year as follows:

At Covington, June 18th; at Oxford, July 18th; at Athens, July 30th.

The Georgia Railroad Company will pass all persons wishing to attend these commencements for one price going and returning.

Judge Gibson, in his charge to the Richmond grand jury, knew of no reason why the District Courts should be done away with. He thus reasons:

Prisoners can be tried at once instead of having to remain in jail six months, which is sometimes a greater punishment than the law inflicts, to await a session of the Superior Court. Expenses in the matter of juries, etc., are much decreased. Though it is your privilege to recommend whatever course you think best; yet, if it can be made useful, you ought not to recommend that it be abolished. I think that there should be a tribunal to try misdemeanors sooner than the Superior Court.

CROPS IN SOUTHWESTERN GEORGIA.—We saw whole fields of cotton, which had evidently been abandoned to the rank growth of grass and weeds, which had taken possession of the soil.

The plants will not average six inches in hight, and forms or squares are scarcer than blossoms should be at this stage of the season.

That outside help also, usually so abundant to planters from the crowds of freedmen who refuse to contract, and infest the towns and villages, has also been absorbed by the myriads of railroad contractors, who pounce down upon everything able to wield hoe or shovel.

Corn crops continue to look well, and have had an unusual degree of attention bestowed upon them. Unless the rains cease, many fields, however, will be deprived of the last or "lay by" plowing.—Ed. cor. Macon Telegraph.

F. Schawb, a member of the old Macon Guards, dead.

If we except the grass, crops along the road between Sandersville and Sparta present rather a poor appearance. Some look better than others, the odds we must say, in favor of Washington. Corn is looking pretty well, but cotton is quite small and generally in the grass.—Sandersville Georgian.

Mrs. Susan Dudley, of Washington county dead.

The Sandersville Georgian says the crop of crab-grass is fine. Upland corn doing well. Upland cotton convalescent. Cotton fields look like millet. Wheat crop almost an entire failure. Oats better, and a greater area than ever known. Fruit crop fine.

Col. J. A. Stewart, of Rome, will publish a paper, The Censor. He means to stir up society.

THE CROPS.—Wheat promises to "pan out" very well. Mr. W. B. Meek informs us that his crop will average fifteen bushels to the acre. The farmers are "laying by" corn preparatory to giving their entire time to cotton. Oats are booming. Cotton on red lands has not been materially injured, and thinks eight or ten days of clear weather would enable planters to kill out the grass.—Monroe Advertiser.

The Savannah Republican learns semi-officially that the Central Road will buy the Selma and Meridian Road. The Central Road has nearly finished its track to the river. The Street and Seaside Railroad in Savannah is so profitable that parties offer to lease it at ten per cent., and extinguish its bonded debt in ten years.

ANOTHER ONE OF BULLOCK'S LIES NAILED TO THE COUNTER.—We are authorized by responsible authority to state that the charges averred by Bullock in his Ku-Klux proclamation, relative to the rape committed upon the person of the wife of Anderson Poullain, (colored,) is an infamous lie. Anderson Poullain and his wife, in the presence of A. T. Harper, a Justice of the Peace, both deny that any such outrage was committed or attempted, and the assumption of the Governor to that effect is false and gratuitous.

The whole of the outrages complained of in that neighborhood, were perpetrated by a party of drunken boys, all of them under twenty years of age and originated as follows:

Sometime in last March the boys in question gathered at Mr. Penny's grocery, an institution long a curse to that splendid neighborhood, but now happily removed and closed, to indulge in a shooting match. During the sport, some negroes appeared with their guns, and offered to join in the match. This the whites refused to allow, but yet being sober, no offense was taken at the offer. Later in the day, however, when the liquor began to tell upon their better nature, they began to reflect upon the conduct of the negroes, and construed it into an insult; and the drunker they got the more enraged they become, until at length they determined to go and break the negroes' guns—and with the drunken madness of youth, they did so, and took from the negroes their guns and broke them up. But beyond this, no indignity or personal violence was offered the negroes.

The whole affair was only an act of malicious mischief, instigated by bad whisky—of no political significance whatever—and as such condemned by the whole community.

But for all that, our rich Governor offered for the apprehension of the boys, twelve in number, the nice little sum of SIXTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

If the instances cited by the Governor, to prove that our people are fit subjects for Grant's bayonets, in other parts of the State are of no more significance than the ones he parades so grandly from this county and Chattooga, his cunning has deceived itself, and instead of proving us barbarians, he will only prove himself to be a miserable liar and scoundrel.—Rome Courier.

The house of Al. Best burned, says the Cartersville Express. Everything lost.

Governor Bullock proclaims a reward of $2,000 for the arrest of James B. Cloud, Wm. Cloud, and Geo. P. McCraw, alias LaFayette McCraw, of Cherokee, charged with the murder of Jerry Garrison. They broke jail after arrest.

CUPID'S CAMPAIGN.—In Calhoun county, on the 1st instant, Mr. G. A. Barry, of Randolph county, to Miss E. Allison.

In Hancock county, Mr. E. J. Hams, of Talbot county, to Miss Willie Garrard.

In LaGrange, on the 8th inst., Mr. D. L. Hill to Miss Kerren Caldwell.

In Perry county, on the 7th inst., Mr. Chas. E. Brown to Miss Mary E. Mann.

In Macon, on the 8th inst., Mr. Thomas Waterhouse to Miss Mary Lou Mathews.

In Miller county, on the 6th instant, Mr. Maston O'Neal, of Bainbridge, to Miss Cora Roberts.

The Savannah Post Office has a letter, without postage, for George S. Smith, of Atlanta.

The McDuffie Journal reports the death of Mr. C. A. Crawford, brother of ex-Governor Geo. W. Crawford.

OUR FRENCH LETTER.

A Graphic Account of the Entry of the Government Army into Paris and the Terrible Scenes Enacted—Thiers an Old Man at Last—Over the Ditch—The Awful Destruction—Heaps of Dead—Delight at the Communes Downfall—Montmartre—The Women Fighting—A Brutal Retreat.

Special Foreign Correspondence of The Constitution.]

VERSAILLES, May 27, 1871.

Arriving at St. Denis, by a train, where as many people followed it as rode in carriages, it became evident that very little of the stirring scenes in Paris could be known at this German depot, more especially as the Prussians were placing double and triple sentries to cut off all the communications—and to run the blockade was certain death, as one poor woman—a cook—learned to her cost. There was nothing left but to pass by some thirty miles of a detour, and so the city of the Grand Monarch was reached. It would be next to a miracle that any of the head-devils of the revolution could escape—the country swarms with gen d'armes, detectives, cavalry patrols, to whom papers must be shown. In case of a good capture being made, reward in the shape of money and promotion is certain to follow.

Versailles was in a fever of joy at the entrance of the troops into the capital, and the constant arrival of prisoners, common and small arms. The residence of was in a state of permanent siege by a crowd greedy for news, and to whom the Chief of the Nation appeared from time to time to read the military dispatches, confirming steady advance toward success. It is nearly three months since I last saw M. Thiers; he has lived, in appearance, a century, is really an old man at last, broken by the storms of State.

Provided by the necessary military pass, accompanied by a few friends, I was enabled to re-enter Paris, along the route of the victorious army. In their trench advance to the enciente, the soldiers had unquestionably worked well, and in the mass of materiel accumulated, the evidence was clear that Thiers, like Moltke, left nothing to chance. In the course of time we shall have the facts of

by the St. Cloud gate. They got in, to all appearances, by a "flake," the breach at La Muette was an open road in comparison to that where the moat was first crossed. It was expected that the simultaneous assault could not be delivered for some days still; an angry dispatch from M. Thiers confirmed this, and the continued firing at Mt. Valrieu proved it. Strange, that it took an hour to signal to the fortress to cease its thunder. M. Clement will also some day give us the history of his waving the white pocket-handkerchief, and how he was able to crawl along the rampart from noon till after two, without being pounded into mince meat by the cross-fire. However, the soldiers got in, as they would in any case, and no one will deny that their arrival was not a moment too soon. Once the infantry spread out right and left, towards the Autinel Viaduct there were fire barricades to be taken, which, had the guards been sober, united or commanded, ought to have rolled back the assault. The defenders rapidly fled, and the besiegers as quickly trooped in, planted tricolors on every eminence. The rush was to seize the bridges across the river. There is half a mile in width, inside the gates—the stones of the houses seemed to be riddled in a kind of lace work, relieved by two or three houses knocked together into a common heap. It was here that to all evidence to the contrary, the last official poster of the Commune was to be met with, announcincing the repulse of the besiegers all along the line, and the destruction of 300 of the brigands by the mitrailleuses alone. It smacked of other sensational days, when King William & Co. were surrounded at Versailles, and their soldiers massacred by thousands. Having arrived at the other side of the river, and entering the Champ de Mars, the troops were received with a galling fire; they pushed on, nevertheless, under all the shelter available. The Guards found themselves soon between two fires, threw up the sponge, abandoned about one hundred and eight pieces of artillery and left whole companies of prisoners in the hands of the victors. Before the resistance closed, a veritable carnage ensued among the ruins of the late exploded cartridge factory. The besiegers uniting, placed Paris, from Auteuel to the Faubourg St. Germain, in their power.

OVER THE DITCH,

Recrossing the river, the conspicuous residence of Prince Pierre Napoleon and the Victor Noir tragedy was an immense ruin—blackened walls and half burnt trees. It had the honor of being gutted in the halcyon days of the Commune. Skirting by la Muette, the nursery where Paris is supplied with the flowers and shrubs for her public places, there were prominent marks of rough work. Peeping through a half opened gate, there were covered by some leaves and green boughs. A scavenger who was quietly cleaning the avenue, as in the time of the Second Empire, seemed supremely indifferent to the tragedy. On removing the primitive covering over the dead, it was clear they fell from shell wounds. One body was in sailor's uniform, the hands were delicate, no marks of toil; the feet were small, in patent leather boots; the features unrecognizable, the brain covering the face like a veil. Twenty prisoners had been taken in this spot asleep, when they were roused up they saw themselves surrounded by bayonets, laughed and were tied. Some officers were in an adjoining house, laughing heartily. They had disturbed Dombrowski over his dinner, and were now rifling his dispatches. The result of their reading has been to lead to the arrest of some "friends of order," who had left Paris. Pushing onward by the beautiful wooded avenues, the trees shivered here and there by shot, the village of Passy and its chief street came in view. But there is a lonely house not far from the railway station, door off its hinges and deserted. Suspended from a bed-rail, and by his hair, dangles the corpse of an officer of the Guards, with sabre cuts in his side. Who will ever unravel this drama? Passy was disaffected during the reign of the Commune, and its National Guards were disarmed. They are now being re-armed, display the Geneva brassard, and will answer for the order of their arrondisement. In passing for the Trocadero, I glanced at a house I occupied last summer, the roof has been all knocked in, and the front wall ditto. It would be well for the Guards to clear the streets of the dead, some remains are in an advanced stage of putrefaction. Stopped to look at

ABSALOM-LIKE,

A CONTINIERE, MORE RED THAN LOVELY IN DEATH.

She was among the dead men, beastly drunk.

Another division of the army passed along by the inside of the fortification, other divisions keeping parallel march outside till the avenue of the Grande Armee was reached. They cleared it very speedily of the barricades, reached the Arch de Triomphe in a rush, where some friendly regiments awaited them.

The first care of the engineers on entering was to cut everywhere the telegraph, and trench here and there for wires. No torpedoes exploded, the barricades so far were not terrors, the soldiers took courage, and doubtless considered shoe maker Gaillard, who was the engineer for their construction, deserved to be dismissed by the Commune. He is, at present, safe in this city, with other celebrities. As the troops advance into the city, police patrols and gen d'arme enter on duty, the first being to search every house from cellar to garret for arms and patriots. There is no mistake about at the entry of the deliverers. Men, women, and children, crawl out of their hiding places, shops are re-opened, and a general scouring away from the walls of the proclamations of the Commune. The soldiers are glad to receive so hearty a welcome. The prisoners on being arrested are examined and searched. Generally, their appearance is even cowardly, and their excuses as old as "the woman beguileth me, &c." The Amazons are really bold, but in France, the men largely compose the "gentler sex."

MONTMARTE, OVER AVENTIRE HILL,

deserves special mention. It was a repetition of the general strategy on a small scale, envelops the enemy, and close in, by parallel-timed advances. On arriving at the foot of the hill, early in the morning, the troops spread out along the base, others crept round by the cemetery, and occupied the heights. The insurgents could do nothing with their artillery in the way of being serviceable—a plunging fire. The soldiers tightened the knot, by advancing under cover of walls, gardens and houses. A galling fire was poured on them from thousands of rifles, determined to finish the Versaillists by a spontaneous rush to the cry of "advance," reached the centre of the hill, the platoon took 120 pieces of cannon, some thousands of prisoners. Many guards escaped to join their friends at the Chateau d'Eau. If a similar victory had been gained on the 18th of March, what a black and terrible page would be spared in the history of France.

From the Arc de Triomphe down the Boulevard Haussmann and the Faubourg St. Honore it was mitrailleuses and musketry. The troops were stopped at almost every street opening by a hastily thrown up barricade, defended obstinately, and taken more or less brilliantly. The guards fought most stubbornly—sought but little shelter from the windows. The Versaillists kept well together, and pursued the Neuilly house-to-house tactics of fighting, which made their progress slow, but gave full opportunity for the play of their cannon and artillery. Never in any revolution has the Faubourg St. Honore, the English quarter of Paris, suffered so severely. Houses are pock-marked with rifle and cannon balls, and some houses have had to be blown down to make a passage for the army to take the enemy in the rear. Strange it was in this quarter that the National Guards resorted most to firing from the houses.

THE PLACE DE LA CONCORDE

was swept by the regulars from the Corps Legislatif, the Palace of Industry and the Madeline. It was no easy position to take; it was the most strongly barricaded in Paris. The pass in the Tuileries Gardens was blocked up by bales of wool and immense bundles of rags difficult to remain near, when once set on fire by the shells. In the neighborhood on the soldiery when they charged the barricade. It is said they also threw petroleum on them, followed by blazing logs of wood. It was here also that the Communists of all nations made something like a final stand, till the new Opera having been taken, the Place Vendome barricade fell, bravely defeated by guards and women, and the distinguished foreigners had to retreat towards the Hotel de Ville.

WOMEN OCCUPIED WINDOWS AND FIRED DOWN

BUT WHAT A RETREAT—

a repetion of the crime of Eratostratus in the Ninth Century—at the idea of which the civilized world rises in indignation, at a destruction useless for protection, and incapable of averting the avenging sword of, not France, but of society at large. The Commune sets in fire and extinguishes forever Red Republicanism; but

"Leaving a name at which the world grows pale,
To paint a moral and adorn a tale."

The petroleum was wilfully laid on—the vandalism commenced at the new wing of the Tuilleries where were the apartments of the Prince Imperial, the Floral Pavilion. It spread, licked rapidly into a train of liquid fire, room after room fell in, then the roof, then the dome—all now a smoking black mass, where once stood the glory and history of France. The Louvre, which belonged to the educated world, has suffered, but some of the picture galleries are safe. The Palais Royal is now represented by bare walls, where so much wit, rank, beauty and crime once found a home; the Luxembourg and its paintings burnt, where not blown up; the Hotel de Ville a bloody ruin; Notre Dame, St. Eustache and other churches wrecks; the Palace of Justice burning still; Mazas prison and its hostages a mass of cinders and charred human remains. It is almost impossible to believe the bitter melancholy evidences of a barbarity that no Goth or Hun could surpass. One passes almost over in silence the rows of private houses equally consumed—a sort of Herculanean of streets, where one could devoutly wish some lava of forgetfulness would hide it from view, because the ruthfulness of the deeds shames our common humanity.

Is it any wonder that the soldiers should give any surprise that France yells, not cries, for the severest and swiftest vengeance that can overtake the miscreants, who, having lost the part they played, had not the courage to accept the penalty. It is not France, but civilization that demands justice, and the government of Versailles may well be excused in dealing out any indiscriminate retribution. By this the fighting is nearly over, the last strong-hold, the lairs of the cosmopolitan desperadoes are nearly taken. Everywhere there is ruin; some streets may be said to run with blood; they are all full full of the most dreadful debris of man and his works.

For weeks to come the "illustrated journals" will have matter enough to speak in their language that every eye can read, for months the journals will be occupied gleaning the scattered and while the world lasts, history will be engaged in unravelling the strangest phase of society that humanity has ever presented, and where woman has played her Hecate part. I would not be surprised if an attempt were made to massacre the prisoners here—the inhabitants are going mad in presence of the devastation and bloodshed since the 21st inst. To what is this beautiful coming to—is there any human hand to bear her up?

The place is within eleven to thirteen hours of Richmond, Washington, Baltimore, etc., by rail, all in day-light. OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY.

THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION. DEFIES REFUTATION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1871.

☞ New Orleans is about clear of the water.

☞ Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee crop accounts are favorable.

☞ Buenos Ayres is getting rid of the yellow fever. Business is resuming.

☞ The young Russian Grand Duke Alexis, son of the Czar, will get to this country the 1st of September.

☞ The Mobile Register, while disposed on general principles to eschew soldiers as candidates for President, yet squints favorably at General Hancock.

☞ Judge Busteed, of Alabama, Judge of the Federal Court, has testified before the Outrage Committee that there is no Ku-Klux in that State, and things are peaceful.

The Coming Negro.

Governor Cooke, Grant's appointee and friend, has appointed a negro, son of Fred. Douglass, commissioner of public schools for the seventh district, composed of white children. One of the teachers promptly closed the school. This is the first step toward mixed schools and social equality.

Ugly Club.

We have the pleasure of acknowledging the receipt of an invitation to the shin-dig of the K. Z. Ugly Club of the University of South Carolina, to be given June 27th. Upon this illustrious occasion, prizes will be awarded to the ugly, the conceited, the lazy, the ladies and the pretty men; and also to the professional loafer, the bore, the baby and the fool.

The Excursion of the Dalton Masons.

Our masonic friends will, in another column see that the Dalton Masons are going to have a grand excursion to Chattanooga and the Tennessee river, to which a general invitation is extended. We can speak from experience of the thorough way in which the Dalton people do up matters, and promise a pleasant occasion for those who would like to seek the mountains on a pleasant jaunt under the most delightful circumstances.

☞ Grant has determined to go to California. Nye, of Nevada, will go with him to keep off the heathen Chinee, and help Ulysses in any little card games. He leaves the middle of August. He will visit Salt Lake City to test Mormonism, and if he likes it, negotiate with Brigham Young for an extra wife or two. It is possible that he may return by steamer from California and take the Sandwich Islands on his route, probably prospecting with a view to the annexation of these islands.

Presidential Consistency.

The President issued an order in April requiring Territorial Governors to stay at home and attend to business. With the Executive and half of the Cabinet away, the extract from said order is significant. The President said: "The unusual number of applications for leave of absence which have been lately made by Territorial officers has induced the President to announce that he expects the gentlemen who hold those offices to stay at their respective Territories and attend strictly to their official duties. Emergencies may arise which require Executive officers to be on hand."

The Public Laws.

We call attention to the communication from "A Sufferer," repeating the inquiry that is in everybody's mouth, viz.: Why have not the laws of the last General Assembly been published? The time for their publication as limited by law has gone twice over. Lawyers need them in their cases. Officers need them for their guidance. The public need them for many purposes.

It is a matter of moment. It is true that since the Public Printer, Dr. Bard, retired from the Era, that this official printing has been run as a nondescript sort of thing. Money has been drawn punctually and liberally. We call Governor Bullock's attention to the matter.

☞ A Washington special to the New York World says: Letters received from England put the extraordinary question seriously whether the marriage between President Grant's son and Princess Beatrice, of England, might not be arranged so as to secure cordiality of the two countries. It is said that the Queen originated the proposition. The Princess is fourteen years of age, and the Queen's idea is that if the nuptials take place on the re-election of Grant in 1872, young Grant then may be adopted a British subject, and immediately appointed Viceroy of Canada. The letters which communicate this surprising proposition were written by persons of highest position in Britain. One asserts that the idea originated with Mr. Seward, who suggested it to the Earl of Mayo, who mentioned it to the Queen, who cordially approves.

Blodgett's Joke About the State Road.

Foster Blodgett's great joke still runs a vigorous and lively career. The amount paid out to date by the State Treasurer for the debts of the State Road, runs to within a fraction of FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

To-day finishes the period in which the auditing board allows claim to be presented. What is behind we have no means of ascertaining.

It may not be improper to say, from what we can learn, that the auditing board has done its work laboriously, faithfully and well. It has scrutinized claims searchingly, and sought to protect the State's interests. It has saved for the public a large amount.

The Board has done all that was possible to break the force of Blodgett's joke, and spare the people the costly grin that said joke was calculated to evoke. The nullification, with the consent of the lessees, of those big contracts made by Mr. Blodgett for engines and cars, has made a large gap in the joke, and reduced greatly the expense to the people.

We shall probably soon see the conclusion of this costly piece of Radical humor, and can soon give the grand total to our curious and eager readers.

☞ A good parody was that involved in the story of a young English nobleman, with a large number of titles and a very small amount of brains. Lord this, Vicount that, and so on, ad infinitum. "My fair friends," said the witty N—, "one of his title you seem to have forgotten." "Oh!" was the universal exclamation, "what is that?" "He is 'Barren' of Intellect," was the rejoinder.

Freedmen's Savings Bank.

From a circular from Washington, we glean that the branch of the Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company, located at Atlanta, had a balance of deposits March, 1871, of $23,396 against $8,371 for the year before.

The Augusta branch had $54,535. The Macon, $22,800. The Savannah, $128,211.

The entire business deposits in thirty-three Southern cities at the end of the last year, was $2,455,836. The largest business was in Charleston, South Carolina, $205,463. The smallest, Little Rock, Ark., $6,853.

The present report is the sixth. The entire business the first year was $305,167. The business has increased yearly 65 per cent. The total deposits for the year ending 1871, were $19,952,947; for the year before, $12,605,781; in 1869, $7,257,798; in 1868, $3,582,378.

The concern has paid in interest $139,324, of which $59,376 was for 1870. The operation extend over sixteen States.

What is lacking in this report is the interesting fact as to how much of the deposits has been made by the freedmen. It would afford a curious and desirable insight into the increase and use of their earnings, and their improvement in pecuniary management. We trust that in the next report this deficiency will be corrected. Such statistics would be instructive, useful and entertaining.

We take a deep interest in the progress of these colored people, in their acquisition of habits and practices of economy, thrift and business. With property they will become more stable and reliable as citizens and laborers. With good habits and management they will acquire property. Those who have had any observation or experience of the freedmen, know how extravagant and improvident they are. They work hard, and waste a year's earnings in a week upon trifles and needless luxuries. Finery and delicacies absorb every dollar of their surplus earnings, if they have any.

We think these well-managed savings banks are calculated to do them good, and impress upon them the necessity and benefit of laying up these accumulations even though very small, as a sinking fund for future use.

"Loilty" in Georgia.

The Administration at Washington has had the highest proof of the "loilty" of Georgia, and this proof ought to go very far in knocking the Ku-Klux idea cold. The list of loyal claimants shows that Georgia heads it in the number and fiery furor of her loyalists. Her claims are bigger, and cover more territory, and her proof is stronger, and affidavits bolder and more rampageous than of any other Southern State.

To those who thought they knew of the status of our people, the development of dormant loyalty has been simply prodigious and ought to carry an enthusing conviction to the Government. We really do not see that our loyal condition could be improved. When it is remembered that most of the claimants had the misfortune to be in the line of Sherman's march, it will be seen, judging from the vast preponderance of loyal sentiment evoked in that narrow strip of the State visited by Sherman, and applying the same rule to the country unvisited by that officer, that Georgia must be nigh universally sound on the "loil" question. If Sherman had unfortunately torn up more of Georgia, it is frightful to think of the additional number of loyal claimants that would have sprung up. We pause breathless before the possibility.

This irrefutable testimony to Georgia loyalty should be prominently considered by the patriotic fathers of Ku-Klux legislation, and so far as our State is concerned, its punitive features modified. There is no better test of latter day loyalty than the number of injured patriots who had their truck heroically destroyed for the Union. The extent of their patriotic damages is the infallible criterion of Georgia's soundness on the proverbial goose. By this immaculate and gorgeous test Georgia can triumphantly instruct her Governor, the splendid representation and type of this peculiar kind of loyal sentiment, to officially notify Grant and Morton that if they continue to doubt the devoted fidelity of this great Commonwealth, they will then put themselves in the category of rank muddleheads.

AMERICAN HEROISM A COMMON GLORY. The Vicksburg Herald reports the following as part of a speech delivered recently in that city by Horace Greeley:

"I greet you here," said Mr. Greeley, "as citizens who will in time feel honor in the glory of Stonewall Jackson as well as those who were in the opposing armies [cheers;] who will glory alike in the glory of R. E. Lee as well as those who fought against him. He felt that the clouds that now hover over the country would soon be swept away, and vanish in the grand, growing, and rising republic which will one day embrace all the countries and all the people of this North American continent."

The Late Laws.

WHY ARE THEY NOT PUBLISHED?

Editor Constitution: Will you please inform your readers why the Laws and Journals of the last Legislature have not been published as required by the Code? Section 1016 of the Code requires the compiler "to furnish the Public Printer with a fair copy of all work required of him, within forty days from the adjournment of the session." And section 1032 requires the Public Printer to have the Laws and Journals printed and delivered to the Executive within ninety days after the manuscripts are received from the compiler.

More than seven months have elapsed since the Legislature adjourned, and the Laws and Journals are not yet distributed as required by law. Whose fault is it? Those interested in local laws can only get a copy of the law, by sending to Atlanta and paying for it. Is this delay intended to benefit some officer at Atlanta by making those interested pay for copies of Acts that ought long since to have been published? How are the people to know what laws have been passed, when they are not published? How long are the Laws and Journals to be kept hid in Atlanta from the eyes of the people? How are the people to know their legal rights, when they are denied access to the laws?

Please give your readers some light on the subject, if you can, and oblige

FROM DALTON.

GRAND MASONIC RAILROAD AND STEAMBOAT EXCURSION.

Editor Constitution: As your paper has the largest circulation in this part of the State, allow me to say to the friends of Masonry that the fraternity of Dalton propose giving a grand excursion to Chattanooga and up the Tennessee river on Friday, June 23d. Cards of invitation are being sent out, and ample arrangements are in progress to make it one of the most recherche affairs ever organized in the Mountain City.

The excursion will leave Dalton at 6 A. M., and on arriving in Chattanooga will step on board a beautiful steamboat, upon which they will sail up the river, enjoying its scenery and the sweet strains of their bands, and no doubt participating in the innocent pleasures of terpsichore. The party will return to Dalton at 9 o'clock P. M.

It is arranged that a coach will start from Calhoun and join the party at Dalton. It is also arranged that parties from Atlanta can go to Dalton and return for one fare. Will not some of our brethren from the Gate City come up? They will be cordially welcomed.

HORACE GREELEY

Defines his Proposition as a Candidate, and tells what he Thinks of the Southern Situation, the Ku-Klux, the Carpet-Baggers and the Democratic Legislature.—A Plain, Blunt Speech.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A public reception to Horace Greeley by the Union Republican General Committee of this city, of which he is Chairman, on the occasion of his return from Texas, occurred this evening in Union Square, in front of the rooms of the Lincoln Club. Having been formally welcomed and introduced to the large audience by Enoch L. Fareher, Mr. Greeley proceeded at once to compare the existing state of affairs with that of 10 years ago, before the war, declaring that the rebellion and its sacrifice of half a million of the best and bravest lives of the country might all have been spared had the North and South only understood each other, and free speech and a fair interchange of opinion prevailed throughout the country. Two months ago he was invited to go to Texas to deliver an agricultural address, and though at first determined to decline, he yielded to the advice of his friends, who told him they thought he could do the whole country good by going down to Texas. Now, said Mr. Greeley, I hear it said I went to Texas with too much parade and circumstance; that there was too much making of speeches from car platforms and balconies of hotels, and I fully concur in that criticism, but invitations came from all quarters, and I felt it my duty to speak words of conciliation. I responded when I could, and for the rest kept silence. Mr. Greeley said it was also urged that in several journals his name was too often mentioned as a candidate for office, and he fully concurred in the suggestion, but he was, in a certain sense, a public man, identified with party contests and party principles. He had often reproved and reproached better men than himself because they would not accept offices, and left second-rate men to fill them. During the last twenty years Mr. Greeley said he had been four times a candidate for office—twice for Congress, once for Constitutional Convention, and once on the State ticket, but never had he sought a nomination, and rarely was he consulted in regard to it. I am not at all grateful, said he, to the Republican party for these nominations. I accepted them as I would any other duty, but for its support I am grateful. But the past is passed, and let the dead bury their dead. I am perfectly willing to pass receipts with the Republican party. I could not help being a Republican. For the future I need no office, desire no office; and though I shall not decline a nomination which has not been given me, shall seek no office. I am, however, willing to do my duty. I have work enough, for which I am reasonably well paid, too much notoriety and the more quiet and peaceful my remaining days shall be the better I shall be satisfied.

With these remarks Mr. Greeley left the subject of his own political future and reviewed at length the principal incidents of his journey South and the impression of Southern politics and society, urging earnestly his familiar views of liberal and generous treatment of the conquered States. He spoke in severe terms of the Ku-Klux, which, he said, the Government ought to extirpate at once and forever, and in severe and more sarcastic condemnation of the thieving carpet-baggers, who, he said, were a curse to the South and a disgrace to the North, whence they came. The carpet-baggers, he said, plunder and prey upon the negroes and poor whites while pretending to be anxious for their education and the salvation of their souls. He said they were the greatest existing obstacle to Republican ascendency in the South, and so he denounced them.

Alluding to his speech at Vicksburg, Mr. Greeley said he did not say he trusted the time would come when we of the North would honor Lee and Stonewall Jackson as we now honor Grant and Sherman, but that he hoped the time would come when all Americans, both North and South, will feel a just pride in the military character and achievements of Lee and Stonewall Jackson, just as we of the North now take pride in the character and achievements of Grant and Sherman and Thomas. Possibly, added Mr. Greeley, this is too strong for some of you, but I can wait; I can wait.

Concerning the New Departure, Mr. Greeley said he thought he was fully justified in saying the Democrats had done well to depart from the foolish old business of running their heads against a stone wall, but it always had been the rule of his life never to conjure up a bad motive for a good action. The Democracy see they are where they had better not be, and that they had better depart. He was glad of the new departure, and glad to see that the Democrats had got a new political religion, and hereafter he would carry the axe under his coat instead of on his shoulder when he went out chopping on Sunday. It would be better yet to leave it in the woodshed and go out and treat the black man as a brother; and he believed that Democrats, at least the better part of the Democrats, meant to do this, and that their professions were something more than skin deep. He would not, however, make too much of the new departure. He did not understand they professed any sorrow for their past warfare against the rights of man, nor made any promise not to renew it; but if the Democrats admit of three Republican amendments to the Constitution are finally and irrevocably ratified, and must be got out if at all in the same way they were got in—by a majority of Congress and vote of three-fourths of all the States—we shall feel safe, and that all we have gained is secure, for, said Mr. Greeley, recalling his experiences at the polls in this city 25 years, and later, 12 years ago, when he could not induce the Democrats, I believe men are wiser and better to-day than they were a dozen years ago. I am weary of this sterile strife concerning the fundamental principles of our Constitution; I rejoice that they have taken a new departure. But will it not put the Republican party immediately out of power? it is asked. Burke says that confidence is a plant of slow growth, and will take some time for the people to have much faith in the new creed of the Democracy. It will take sometime for their own folks to believe it. Ultimately, I think it will strengthen the Democracy, but I am willing to go out of power now and live in minority forever, if necessary. The downfall and overthrow of American slavery is the grandest work of any generation since the government was founded. Let us remember the grand old Bible injunction, "Speak to the Children of Israel that they go forward." We ought long ago to have ceded all the trouble by universal amnesty and impartial suffrage; and if the Democrats concede the latter the Republicans must grant the former. In conclusion, Mr. Greeley summoned all around him to prepare for new issues and new struggles which open before us. The questions of industrial policy, of national advancement and prosperity are daily more imperative and demand the best and most honorable service of the American citizen.

Mr. Greeley closed with an eloquent apostrophe to the new and broader departure which he hoped for the whole country in peace, unity and prosperity, and retired amid hearty cheers from thousands around the platform.

AMSTERDAM.

INTERESTING PARTICULARS ABOUT THE DUTCH HOUSES IN HOLLAND.

Residents of other countries who have grown so used to hearing and knowing of towns and cities that double their population anywhere from every five to fifty years, will find it difficult to believe that a nation like Holland, which formerly played so important a part in the world, and is now, in an eminent degree, thriving, should remain stationary in the number of its population for almost 200 years.

For two centuries previous to the last twenty years, the building of an entirely new house was quite an event in the history of Amsterdam. The city, for one thing, was big enough for the people. For another, the expense of sinking a foundation is so great that he must be a wealthy Dutchman who shall attempt the feat. His forefathers sunk piles 70 feet long through the mud into the clay, and he must, if he would build an entirely new house, do the same. He therefore generally contents himself with the old house, the foundation of which, of mere wooden piles, is often as much as six or seven hundred years old.

Every house, in so far as the shell is concerned, is constructed in the same way. The tops of the 70-foot piles are driven down until only about six feet remain above the surface, and upon them is fastened a strong platform of planks. This foundation, says a graphic writer in London Society, who has recently been making a special study of the Dutchmen at home, is indestructible. Upon the platform is raised the house, with very strong walls of stone or clinker brick, tied together so firmly with numerous transverse beams that at the top of a merchant's house, seven or eight stories high, may often be found a warehouse containing the heaviest iron goods. Each house commonly stands completely detached from its neighbor; and it may be safely said that though a violent earthquake might topple these structures over bodily, it could not shake them to pieces.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Gov. Lindsay, of Alabama, who is here under summons from the Ku-Klux Committee, utterly denounces the testimony of Rev. A. S. Lakin, whom he characterizes as a sneak, and a liar, and a stirrer up of strife. Lakin's statement is still alive in the locality of which he speaks. Gov. Lindsay lives in the same locality. Gov. Lindsay represents Alabama as thoroughly quiet and peaceful. Gov. Lindsay will probably testify to-morrow. His health is very feeble.

Banister Washburn, who is at Paris, has leave to visit home.

Rev. G. C. Chenowarth is appointed disbursing agent of the Post Office Department, vice Homeopathist, removed by former Commissioners.

Persior is restored by the present Commissioners as medical examiner.

The clerk in the Auditor's office who shot the negro magistrate in groin, says that the quarrel grew out of a swindle in the sale of a second-hand stove.

TENNESSEE.

CHATTANOOGA, June 14.—A Committee of creditors in conference with Mr. Stanton to consider the affairs of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, resolved to exhaust the law to defeat compulsory bankruptcy. A committee was appointed to examine the books and accounts of the road and publish the result; that Stanton be appointed agent to operate for the road, and a financial agent be appointed to handle money in the interest of the creditors. Debts, laborers and employees have the preference. A committee of three was appointed with whom Stanton will consult and advise in the management of this road. It is believed if Stanton is allowed to operate this road, the last dollar will be paid. The extension of one, two and three years is asked, at 8 per cent interest upon certain guarantees from Stanton.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 14.—The Times says of the treaty of Washington, it was not England alone who yielded some of her claims, but the United States also made great concessions.

The Times considers it unprecedented that such grave differences between nations as the Alabama claims should have been settled without a resort to arms. The demand for consequential damages for the injury done American commerce by the Alabama and kindred vessels, was acceptable to the English commissioners, and was abandoned by the United States.

The Times, in conclusion, expresses the hope that, in taking pattern from the adjustment of the American questions, the nations of Europe will rise to a higher conception of the aims and duties of international fellowship.

VERSAILLES, June 14.—Rochefort will plead that the military commission is incompetent to try his case, and will appeal for a jury.

The Official Journal says the story of executions in Bois de Boulogne with mitraelleuses was odious and absurd. And also denies that the Orleans Princes dined with Thiers.

Joinville and Aumale visited Thiers unexpectedly. During the interview Thiers said that though once a Minister of their father's, he was to-day the head of a republic. There was nothing significant in the visit. They understood the past and accept the present situation.

The Journal adds that Thiers did himself honor by his bearing during the interview, and Republicans were unembarrassed in the presence of these illustrious and noble Princes.

In order to combat Napoleon intrigues, it is proposed to impeach the Emperor for declaring to wage war.

Pay of Jurymen.

One of the most important and responsible—but, at the same time, one of the most irksome and distasteful—duties that a citizen is called on to perform is that of serving as a juror; and yet, as if to make citizens more reluctant in the discharge of their duty, the remuneration and terms of payment are so fixed as to render it difficult, if not impossible for a laboring man to provide his family with the necessaries of life while he is thus engaged. Having recently been so unfortunate ourselves as to be drawn on a jury, we had a good opportunity, during a term of four weeks, of observing the practical operation of the present laws in regard to the payment of jurors. In the first place, the remuneration of one dollar per diem is entirely inadequate. Even unskilled labor may now be said to be worth at least two dollars per day, while the skilled mechanic can earn double that sum. But the most serious objection is to the time of payment. The juror is not allowed to draw any part of his pay until two or three drays after the four weeks' term has closed, so that a mechanic, who could earn four to five dollars per day at his trade, is expected to serve his country for more than four weeks without receiving anything to keep his family from starvation. Several cases of this kind came under our notice; one of them a bricklayer, who had been without work (as is usually the case) during the winter, and had expended all of his means in the support of his family. At the opening of spring, when work had just commenced, and he could earn good wages, he was empanneled as a juryman, and deprived of his work, and left for four weeks to subsist on his credit alone. These are serious evils, and should be corrected at once. The pay of jurors should be increased to $3 per day at least, and the payments should be made weekly.—Philadelphia Trade Journal.

A Story of Grant.

A well-known member of the profession was looking about there last week with a view to rusticating the bairns during the summer, and strolling along the beach in the evening, he met another man, and the twain sat down to watch the fog, which the Jerseyman said would "lift in a minute, as a land breeze was springing up." They talked of the failure of the hay crop, and the good prospects for a large musquito crop, of hotel life and cottage life, and then of politics, of Grant and his administration, etc. The actor man expressed himself freely; quoted some editorial of that morning from the high-favored pen of Dana; told his new-made friend "that these things couldn't be said if Useless didn't give such glorious occasion for 'em," etc., to the end of a Democratic man's chapter. After a while, as the fog didn't lift, they strolled up the beach to a point where the stranger was about to leave. The actor-man expresses his pleasure at meeting the gentleman, saying, "My name is ——; what might I call you, sir?"

"Well," responded the unknown, "you might call me almost anything, but as you've been calling me Ulysses Grant all the evening, it's almost useless to ask you to try another," and, with a pleasant "good evening," off walked the President of these United States. Not bad for Useless, as Dana must admit this time.—St. Louis Republican.

☞ Orville Grant is visiting Mrs. Woodhull and Tennie in New York, and Mrs. Woodhull has made the following remarks to a reporter: "I said to the President last winter, when I was in Washington, 'Ulysses,' I said—I call him Ulysses, as we are very old friends: we grew up together—'Ulysses,' said I, 'you ought to have taken a strong position on the 14th amendment in favor of female suffrage, the same as you have in favor of negro suffrage on the 15th amendment. That would have made you strong.' 'I know I had,' he replied, 'but I was so situated that I couldn't. The politicians wouldn't let me do as I pleased.' 'Then,' said I, 'as you hadn't the moral courage to do what you know to be right, you will have to surrender this place two years hence to me.'"

☞ A lay speaker, in a Methodist Conference down East, illustrated his readiness to fraternize with his Southern brethren, and his feelings toward them, by the story of the two men that would not speak to each other; but one, having been converted at a camp meeting, on seeing his former enemy, held out his hand, saying: "How d'ye do, Kemp? I am humble enough to shake hands with a dog."

☞ Mr. Greeley has been decidedly improved in temper and personal appearance by his trip South. His style of speaking is much less emphatic, his raiment is more in accordance with the fashion of the present century, and altogether he gives one the impression of a man "toning" himself, as it were, to be next President of the United States.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

☞ The 18th of June, which has been designated by the Emperor William as a day for thanksgiving throughout Germany on account of its success in the late war, is the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo, which was also decided by the Prussian columns of Marshal Blucher. That fact probably induced the selection.

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1871.

City Intelligence.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—John Stephens offers for sale a beautiful lot on Jackson street, containing about five acres, with a new dwelling house and all necessary buildings.

S. K. Johnson, Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad, announces that parties attending the commencement exercises at Covington, Oxford and Athens, will be passed over his road for one fare.

The Commencement Exercises of Bowdon College begin on July 2d. Parties passing over the Western and Atlantic Railroad pay full fare going and return free.

W. R. Hammond, assignee of Rondeau & Co., bankrupts, announces the sale of the Furniture Factory, building and contents, and lot, on July 3d, to the highest bidder.

Col. G. W. Adair, Real Estate Agent offers to lease or sell the Chattanooga Flouring Mills. Capacity, seventy-five barrels in twelve hours.

The house known as the Parsonage Property on Pryor street, east of Wesley Chapel, and of the business lots where Wesley Chapel stands, will be offered at private sale for ten days.

ATTENTION.—Send your job work to THE CONSTITUTION Office if you want it done well.

LOOK AT THIS.—Experienced printers and splendid stationery at THE CONSTITUTION Job Office.

PEACHES.—Peaches are plentiful at $3 per bushel.

FIFTEENTH AMENDMENTS.—Yesterday a few 15th and 16th amendments left on an excursion to Chattanooga. There were not a car load.

MAKING A HAUL.—On Tuesday night the residence of F. M. Eddleman, Esq., was entered, and robbed of about $100 worth of provisions.

EARLY.—A Broad street merchant, not long since married, received yesterday a letter addressed to himself and son!

L. B. DAVIS.—We regret to learn that our live friend, L. B. Davis, is confined to his room by severe indisposition. We hope to see his genial phiz on our streets soon.

FURNITURE FACTORY.—General inquiry is being made relative to the proposed movement to establish a furniture factory in Atlanta. What has become of the movement?

A BENEDICT.—Mr. Burroughs, of the firm of Sharp, Burroughs & Co., has returned from Alabama, a Benedict. May happiness and peace be theirs.

SALE OF NEWSPAPER MATERIAL.—The "Atlanta Intelligencer" and all the material of its different departments will be sold to the highest bidder this morning at 11 o'clock, by the Assignee, N. R. Fowler. See his advertisement.

DON'T KNOW ALL HIS CHILDREN'S NAME'S. It is related of one of our worthy Teutonic citizens that he doesn't know the names of all of his children, or at least there are so many he can't remember all their names.

REV. DR. BRANTLY.—Considerable pressure has been brought to bear since last Friday night upon Rev. Dr. Brantly, not only by leading members of the Baptist denomination, but of other denominations and citizens generally, to induce him to withdraw his resignation. We cannot see how he can withstand the urgent appeals of the people to remain.

SUBURBAN COTTAGE.—John Stephens, of the firm of Stephens & Flynn, offers his magnificent suburban residence for sale. The residence is a cosy cottage, situated one mile from the Kimball House, in a healthy locality, where pure air and water is abundant. Parties desirous of purchasing a home fit for a lord, will do well to call on Mr. Stephens.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—In this Court yesterday, a motion was made for a new trial in the case of the Yahoola River and Cane Creek Hydraulic Hose and Mining Company, and argument will be heard to-day. The United States Marshal was instructed to pay over a certain sum to William Solomon of the amount collected from Christopher Dodd.

MURDEROUS ONSLAUGHT.—Yesterday the ubiquitous and veritable "Sam Johnson," was arraigned before Justice Johnson, on the charge of a savage and brutal assault upon some colored females, with intent to murder. Sam, who is also col'd, saw the dusky Shemales gathering blackberries, and threatened to use his knife in "scatterlophisticating them over the equanimity of the forest," if they didn't leave his plum orchard. The case not being made out, it was dismissed on payment of costs.

TABLEAU.—Morning, with the "sunlight summer," and the freshening breeze. Beautiful young maiden in the soft light of the curtained parlor. Prosperous young grocery merchant bent forward eagerly inspecting a diamond ring on the forefinger of beautiful maiden, while the delicate hand rests in his own. Paternal relative suddenly appearing in the doorway, and ejaculating, "Oh, ah! that's it, is it!" Exeunt omnes—"P. R." chuckling with his joke—lad and lassie sadly confused.

Who is it? Who are they? Do you plead guilty to the "soft im-PEACH-ment."

FULTON SUPERIOR COURT.—Yesterday, Fulton Superior Court was engaged during the day in the trial of a case against a female for fornication. The jury retired to their rooms with instructions if they agreed during the night to seal up their verdict and go home.

H. D. McDowell plead guilty to being interested in a gaming table, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 in one case and $1 in another.

J. M. Loyd plead guilty to being interested in a keno table, but the sentence was reserved until to-day.

Roderick Evans plead guilty to assault and battery and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and cost.

It was announced that no more civil causes would be tried at this term.

A PLEA FOR HEALTH!—Mr. Local: Will you grant a few lines of supplication to our city to raise an arm of help to secure life and health to the people. The subject is one of quite as much consequence to the prosperity of the city, even as the question of railroads, water-works or street grades; indeed, it underlies in its consequences all these important subjects, for should we but for one summer have an epidemic in the city, its attractions for capital and population would suffer an obscuration from the effects of which it would not recover during the present generation. It is wisely told us that cleanliness is promotive of godliness, and to this truth the thoughtful mind will yield a ready assent. To be a cleanly city, there would seem to be worthy of much effort, and to be a cleanly, a healthy, and a godly city, would be of more advantage to Atlanta, even in a pecuniary sense, than would result from the building of the Georgia Western Railroad, which latter, just now, claims so much concern from her property holding citizens. And then, again, these righteous and happy results can be obtained at so trifling an outlay of money, which fact surely should commend itself to our wise city legislators, if they would signalize their administration for good, and attract to themselves the public applause. Let us then beseech them to issue the following edict to the supervisor of the street hands and carts, and the citizens to govern themselves accordingly, viz.: To pass on every Wednesday and Saturday mornings with the mules and carts through each commercial thoroughfare in the city, and with coarse split-oak brooms, or otherwise gather up the refuse vegetable matters which have been cast out from the shops, hotels and boarding houses especially, together with the dead rats, chickens and other filth which so odorously appeal to us in certain quarters, and haul them to some remote fertilizing centre, where they could be sold for some part of the expense of their removal. In addition, the black and offensive mud in wet weather, and dust in dry, which accumulates in the streets and ruts in some sections should be swept up and carted off.

Another point which should receive their attention would be to require the immediate drainage of any standing water in low places in which the city, and especially on certain lots where buildings are being erected. In accomplishing this we may escape, or at least modify, the evil of an annual incursion of musquitoes which so grievously molest us in the fall months. These may seem, Mr. Editor, small matters to the unthinking multitude, but be assured that a long and careful experience on the part of the writer convinces him that upon just such small matters do hang the issues of life and death, and that a direful pestilence may be as easily generated in a space a few feet square, as in an area one hundred times as great, and that the cause of violent disease may emanate from a pile of garbage and decaying filth, which, to many, would seem astonishing and altogether incommensurate with its size. There are other details pertaining to the subject, in connection with a system of regulations as incident to the domestic establishment, which will suggest themselves to the minds of our Board of Health, and which might properly claim a more active consideration from them, than is apparently accorded to it, and which it is much to be desired they will render.

The bi-weekly gathering up of the decaying vegetable and animal matters from the principal streets and business ways and carrying them off for utilization, calls loudly for the immediate action of the honorable Council, in proof of which I summon as witnesses the olfactory organs of every citizen who passes along the commercial streets, or through any of the public walks in the city. Respectfully.

CITIZEN.

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS.—To the Public.—Alderman Wells says, that the Board of Commissioners never advertised for bids for the contract, to which the Board says, that after fully investigating the various systems of water works, none could be found that could be adapted to the wants and necessities of the city of Atlanta but the Holly system, and the right to use that system being secured by patent to that company, advertising for bids could not have resulted in benefit to Atlanta.

"That nothing relative to the contract has ever been submitted to Council."

Two calls have been made by the Mayor, at the instance of the Board of Water Commissioners, requesting Council to meet the Board, with an express notification of the object for which the call was made, for consultation, etc., with the Council, both of which calls were totally disregarded, leaving the Water Board to act without the slightest expression of disapprobation on the part of Council before any contract was made, with a special notice that if any opposition was intended to be made by Council that it ought to be done before the city was bound by a contract.

2d. Alderman Wells says the amount of bonds to be issued has not been stated, and he deems it unsafe and unwise to indorse blindly for the Commissioners. I ask the gentleman to explain how it was possible the Commissioners could state the amount of bonds when there was no quorum of Council to hear the statement; and, further, if when the Council fail to meet at the call of the Mayor, and the Commissioners went to the Council Chamber as their last resort to communicate with the Council, if he and his colleagues did not bolt to prevent hearing even an explanation from the Water Commissioners. "None so deaf as those that will not hear."

3d. Alderman Wells says that the Board of Water Commissioners have never asked it at their hands. The Board replies that the reason why is that the Council first refused to meet the Board, and when the Board went to the Council Chamber they fled. "How could the Board ask it?"

4th. Alderman Wells says the city will be sued for $108,000 damages for a former contract. If he knew this to be true, so much the greater necessity for his meeting the Board and furnishing the information necessary to prevent injury to the city, and opposing the action of the Board before new contracts were made, and if this knowledge was with him, is it not reprehensible that he should withdraw and refuse to communicate it to the Board.

5th. Alderman Wells says the building of railroads is more important than waterworks. Would it not have been better for him to have made that argument before the people before the election of Water Commissioners, and have reported to the Board after the election, than to have fled from the Council Chamber to prevent an interview with them upon so important a subject as Alderman Wells makes water works to be?

6th. Alderman Wells says the Board claims the right to issue the bonds and control the works etc., and upon them ought to rest the responsibility. The Board are perfectly willing to meet it. But is it fair for Alderman Wells to avoid a meeting and charge a withholding of the information on the part of the Board from the Council?

As to Alderman Wells' opinion in relation to canals the Board have nothing to say.

Thus. First, This Council was called twice to take action on the water-works before any steps were taken by the Board, and failed to meet

Second, This Council was called together twice to consult with the Board in relation to the progress of the works and failed to meet.

Thirdly, The Board of Commissioners have gone twice to the Council Chamber when they were in regular session to inform them of their action, and Alderman Wells with others fled to prevent a hearing from the Board. Who's to blame?

BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

$100,000! $100,000!—Aiken premium land sale.

$100,000 to be distributed to share holders. Five dollars will purchase a share, including a work of art worth five dollars. The Derby farm property to be distributed embraces the largest Vineyard and Orchard in the South. Unequalled climate! Peaceable country! Generous soil! The salubrious and health-giving climate of Aiken has given it the name of "The Saratoga of the South."

$95,000 in premiums presented to shareholders.

$100,000 in real estate and greenback prizes to be distributed to shareholders.

94 Real Estate Prizes worth from $300 to $25,000

522 greenback prizes from $5 to $1,000. Only 19,000 shares will be issued. One share in every thirty-one will draw a prize.

This real estate property, conveyed by deed of trust to the Committee who are to conduct the drawing, is to be transferred by them to the fortunate shareholders as soon as the remaining shares are sold.

The drawing will take place according to the published programme. The day of the drawing will be announced by telegram to the Associated Press.

A small sum invested now may secure a fortune. Every shareholder may rest assured of equal justice, and that this scheme, unlike many others, is "fair, square and honest."

Money received after the books are closed will be promptly returned. For full particulars, as embraced in revised pamphlet, address

The Daily Constitution.

EVIDENCE OVERLOOKED.

'Twas plain (the jury's verdict said)
 The man his life has lost,
By falling from the garden wall;
 'Twas crime at fearful cost.

That one so young and handsome should
 Have turned to be a thief,
For minds of those who rightful mean
 Was surely cause for grief.

He doubtless knew the house was home
 Of luxury and wealth,
The wife alone, the husband flown
 The warmer clime for health.

But, looking up, I saw a piece
 Of lace from shutter fluttered,
Which made me doubt the truthfulness
 Of some remarks they'd uttered.

City and Suburban.

MAYOR'S COURT.

"I do believe in any plan
 O' levying the taxes
Ez long ez like a lumberman,
 They don't give my pocket the scratches."

The attendance on the daily levee of His Honor, Mayor Hammond, was slim this morning. Pat Fitzgibbon had cleaned the room up bright and nice, but only three infractors of the city ordinances were arraigned.

The document upon which witnesses are sworn is a black, greasy looking Bible. Upon the edges of it appears a representation of the cross and the word THINK! The idea of asking some of the witnesses to think is clever! On one of the fly sheets inside of the Bible appears the following inscription:

"This Holy Book
 Was by Sheriff took,
 To satisfy a debt,
 But now is given
 To point to Heaven
 That Sheriff and his set."
 [Collins' Ode.

The witness is asked—"Youdosolemlysweartotellthewholetruth,nothingbutthetruthshelpyouGod," the book is smacked with a noise like the breaking of a rotten egg or popping of a percushion cap, or in a subdued manner like a cat licking a kitten.

Scott Fleming was first brought up on the charge of disorderly conduct, and using profane language on the 7th of May. Scott thought His Honor should let him go scot f ee as he had been arrested by Henry Holmes, under a warrant issued by B. D. Smith for the same offense. The Mayor continued the case until he could ascertain whether the papers in the case had been returned to the Superior Court.

Joseph Starns, a deputy United States Marshal, was the next one presented for introduction to His Honor the Mayor, on the charge of drunk, disorderly conduct and using profane language on the 7th of May. This grew out of the other case. Starns was passing along with some Federal soldiers, when Fleming said to him "that he did not think that of him." Starns asked "what," and Fleming said, "being a d—d rascal." This got up a muss. Bad language was used by both parties, and Starns drew his pistol for protection.

His Honor discharged Starns, as Fleming had insulted him.

Case number one thousand, was one against a falstaffian German, P. A. B. Meister, who is charged with keeping open doors after hours on Monday night, and selling lager and cigars. The testimony for the city was that he closed his front doors at 35 minutes past eleven, but at twelve o'clock five men were standing at his counter drinking lager. Meister, who is an ex-preacher and an orator, said: "Before Got, and as a Christian man, I closed mine doors at bell ring; never sold any dings after that. One night, gouble weeks ago the German Music Club brought me a serenade, and I dreats dem to lager. Dey sings in German:

'Who would have thought there was so much lager in the old man?'"

The Mayor continued the case for further evidence.

Mayor Hammond denies asserting that Fechter put Cocculus Indicus in his beer, and don't want the beer put on him in that manner. He doesn't drink lager, but is fond of Adam's Ale.

EMORY COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The commencement exercises of Emory College, at Oxford, begin on the 19th of July. The following junior speakers have been chosen: R. L. Campbell, D. L. Cheatham, T. E. RETURNED.—We are pleased to see that Col. T. Stobo Farrow has returned, in good health and fine spirits, from Columbus, where he has been for some days past engaged in an important case in Muscogee Superior Court.

Mr. Local: Please inform your many readers that Messrs. Withers & Co., founders of this city, propose to cast those water pipes for less than the Water Commissioners propose to pay for them in Louisville. How is that for patronizing home industry? Give them a bid at it, Mr. Commissioners.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The iron-clad Dictator has arrived from Key West. She steamed 1,300 miles in eight days, with a heavy monitor in tow.

A special from Chattanooga, says: "I saw a letter from Jeff. Davis to Col. Styles, of the Albany (Ga.) News, in which he complains of the manner in which his speeches at Atlanta and Augusta have been misconstrued by the Northern Press. He says he never wished directly or indirectly to counsel the Southern people not to tolerate the situation. He thinks they ought to wait patiently till the return of good sense of the Northern people brings about a reversal of more obnoxious features in the recent Congressional Legislation. He disavows most strongly anything like s revival of armed resistance. There was one part of his Atlanta speech which was not reported. Before saying he did not accept the situation, Mr. Davis hoped that if any Northern reporters were present that they would take particular notice of his words, and he then said he did not desire to be understood as advising anything like disloyalty to the Government."

READ! READ! READ!!! Health, beauty and happiness restored to modern womanhood, by using Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator or Woman's Best Friend.

☞ Sold by every Druggist in Charlotte, N. C., and by Druggists generally. ☜

We were kindly furnished the following extract from a letter to Dr. F. Scarr, Druggist, of this city:

STANLEY COUNTY, N. C.

Dr. F. Scarr—DEAR SIR: When in your town I asked you for something for my wife. You sold me a bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, or Woman's Best Friend. Please put me up one dozen bottles of the same, as the one I got from you has got my wife finely well. You would not know her now; she has got stout and healthy and as red as a rose. As others are needing it please send me one dozen bottles. ***

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 23, 1871.

Dr. J. H. Bradfield—DEAR SIR: We cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy and popularity of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Among a number of cases it has benefitted in this community, we mention that of a married lady. She was a sufferer from womb disease; had excessive and disagreeable flow of whites; was weak and languid. She was induced to try the Regulator, and after taking the second bottle she is sound and well. Her health and elasticity of spirits have returned, and she has gained many pounds in weight; feels altogether like a new being. Yours very respectfully,

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

HEALTH'S FOAMING ELIXIR. The volatile principle of the Seltzer Spa Water is lost in crossing the Atlantic. It reaches this country "stale, flat and unprofitable." But in this matchless natural remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, is reproduced in all the sanitary perfection of the original Spa, as freshly drawn and drank foaming at the fountain side. It requires but an instant to improvise the delicious draught, and for all the disorders of the stomach, bowels and liver, prevalent at this season, it is—in the opinion of our ablest physicians—a safe and admirable specific.

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER!

SCHEETZ'S

CELEBRATED

BITTER CORDIAL!

WHOLESALE DEPOT,

Northwest Cor. Fifth and Race Streets, Philadelphia.

JACOB SCHEETZ, Sole Prop'r.

IT is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt, and speedy remedy for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bowel Complaint, Dyspepsia, Lowness of Spirits, Faintings, Sick Stomach, Headache, etc. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. As an indisputable evidence of its medical proprieties, we append a few of the many certificates in our possession.

CUMBERLAND IRON WORKS, TENN., October 12th, 1869.

Jacob Scheetz, M. D.—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been having the chills for the last twelve months. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard Scheetz's Bitters highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, I continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well. I not only consider the Bitters a sovereign remedy for chills, but I believe, it a preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

Yours very truly, MOLLIE HART.

PHILADELPHIA, February 17th, 1868.

Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been intimately acquainted with Scheetz's Celebrated Bitter Cordial for the past four years, and have seen its effects in Dyspepsia, Nervous Diseases, Rheumatism, and all the various forms of general debility tending to decline, and from my knowledge of said bitters, I have no hesitation in prouoncing them the best general remedy for the above diseases that is known. You may use this in any way you desire.

WM. CLARK, M. D.,

No. 816 Market St., and N. E. Cor. 6th and Callowhill.

Mr. Jacob Scheetz—Dear Sir: It affords me much pleasure to infrom you that after suffering for fifteen months with Chills and Fever, I was induced to use your justly celebrated Bitter Cordial, which effected a permanent cure, only used one half pint last August, and had not a chill since. You are at liberty to use this as you please.

NOTICE.

ATHENS, GEORGIA, January 18, 1871.

AT THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE Alumni of the University of Georgia, in August last, the members then present, while rejoicing in the high position to which the University had attained, and recalling the revered memories of very many, who in days of yore had been students at this noble Institution, were saddened by the solemn thought that, as year after year passed away, some of her noblest sons were removed from life's busy scenes.

Moved by sweet memories of the past, they desired to gather the scattered brotherhood once more around the shrine of their much-loved Alma Mater, and there, by joining hand and heart, endeavor to awaken fresh zeal in the breast of every son in her behalf.

Actuated by this desire, they unanimously resolved to have an Alumni Dinner. A Committee was appointed to solicit contributions, and make all necessary arrangements for this purpose.

Acting under this resolution, we, the Committee, invite all the Alumni to be present on that occasion, and respectfully request them to send immediately, by Post Office order, or by Express, the contributions they may wish to make for this purpose.

After investigation, we find that it will require at least Five Dollars from each Alumnus, to fully carry out our designs.

The Trustees, with that wisdom which has ever marked all their deliberations in behalf of the University, heartily endorsed the resolutions of the Alumni, and set apart Monday, the 31st of July, exclusively for the exercises of that body, on which day the dinner will take place.

Should the Committee be prevented from carrying out the resolutions of the Alumni, the money contributed will be promptly returned.

Please enclose contributions to Dr. H. R. J. Long, Secretary and Treasurer of Committee.

Very respectfully,

W. W. LUMPKIN,

7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railroad.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

THE building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.

A Good Investment.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly Safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest, (more than 8 per cent. currency,) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 Acres of Land to every mile of track or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from United States Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

Lands for Bonds.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

Sinking Fund.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

Exchanging U. S. Five-Twenties.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.

Other Securities.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

"Southern Books for Southern Schools."

School-Books which are Unsectional, Unpartisan, and Unpolitical.

PREPARED BY THE MOST EMINENT SOUTHERN SCHOLARS, AND

ENTIRELY ACCEPTABLE TO SOUTHERN TEACHERS AND PARENTS

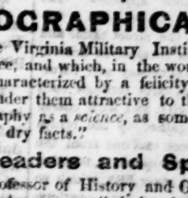

Officially adopted by the Virginia State Board of Education.

AND NOW LARGELY IN USE IN EVERY SOUTHERN STATE.

The University Publishing Co.,

An Association composed of many of the most eminent citizens of the several Southern States, feeling the necessity for a series of School-Books which should be entirely unsectional, unpartisan, and unpolitical, which should present only the facts of history and science—are now issuing a complete series of School and College Text-books by the eminent scholars and educators named below, which are the

Cheapest, Best, and Most Beautiful School-Books

Now published. The "University Series" embraces

MAURY'S GEOGRAPHICAL SERIES,

By Commodore M. F. MAURY, of the Virginia Military Institute. A series of books which mark an era in the study of this science, and which, in the words of a well known and accomplished Southern teacher, "are characterized by a felicity of arrangement and simple freshness of style which must ever render them attractive to the young, and which will be used by all who wish to teach Geography as a science, as something to make pupils think, and not merely as an enumeration of dry facts."

Holmes' Readers and Spellers,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., Professor of History and General Literature in the University of Virginia. A series of Readers unequalled in cheapness, excellence, and typographical beauty. They are steadily progressive in character, bright and fresh in their selections of prose and verse, and illustrative of Southern scenes, incidents, and history.

Venable's Arithmetical Series,

By CHARLES S. VENABLE, LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in the University of Virginia. These books are received everywhere by intelligent teachers with the highest satisfaction, as being most admirably adapted for mental drill, as well as for business education. Their methods, rules, and reasonings are clear, distinct, logical, and comprehensive, and the series is carefully graded throughout.

Holmes' History of the United States,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., of the University of Virginia. It is enough to say of this admirable work, interesting, impartial, and truthful, as well as pure and graceful in style, that it is the only History of the United States which is strictly unpartisan It comes down to the present date. Also,

De Vere's French Grammar, Readers, etc.,
Gildersleeve's Latin Series,
Carter's Elements of General History,
Holmes' English Grammars,
LeConte's Scientific Series,
Johnston's English Classics,
Duntonian Writing-Books, etc., etc.
